Like the morning sun we come;

"Ain't no time to hate, barely time to wait, Woh-oh, what I want to know is where does the time go?"

-The Grateful Dead

Time goes by so fast. It seems like just yesterday we were freshmen, faced with endless possibilities. We were in love with the idea of being in high school, though we weren't thrilled about starting on the bottom again. Once we settled in, we joined various clubs and teams, and eventually found our place in the high school. We waited for that glorious day when we would become licensed drivers; anticipated our very first Holiday Ball, and spent our three minute passing time stalking the god-like seniors. But freshmen year drew to a close, sophomore year flew by, and junior year was a whirlwind of stress. As seniors, we entered the high school, armed with confetti and silly string, and began the season that would become our most memorable year of high school. As the saying goes, "It's easier on the bottom, but better on top." Just as quickly as our high school years began, they have come to a close. We realized that our parents were right when they told us that these would be the best days of our lives. Ain't that the truth.

-Erica Tolles and Sarah Piperato, '99

And like the wind we go...

TYE DYE

On August 30, 1998 the class of 1999 began its journey through Senior year with a bang. After some negotiating with my parents, I had the pleasure of having the entire class over my house to tye-dye t-shirts. Everyone had a great time and it seemed to be a bonding experience for all. For one day, everyone put aside their differences, cliques came together, and everybody was ready to party! After some unexpected swimming, we all left feeling a new sense of pride and spirit for the class of '99. I would like to thank everyone who helped out, but especially my parents for keeping their sanity. All I can say is no other party compares to a party thrown by the class of 1999!

Time To Shine

7:35 am September 2, 1998

The class of 1999 stormed the lobby. United in tye-dyes and togas we yelled as if it were our last day, but it was only the first. Not one of us entered empty handed. Armed with everything from pasta and whipped cream to dog food and raw meat, we took WHS by storm. We had seen it done three times before, but we did it three times better. Through the debris, we surveyed the five hundred or so underclassmen and knew we would dominate; this year would be ours. We would avoid the horrors of picture day, be the first to receive gym locks, slide to the front of the snack line, slack off in our classes, and in May we would be saying good-bye to public schooling forever. Although the comments of our first day display ranged from "The best I've ever seen," to "Immature and distasteful," we knew that we had rocked. And for anyone who chooses to disagree, well, they can just read the shirt.

In order to preserve the sanity (haha) of the class of 1999 unofficial mental health day was observed in June 1998. It was highly recommended that the class take this "personal" day by Casey Cullen, MD. However, Dr. Zolubos might not have agreed with the diagnosis. The class of '99 spent the day relaxing and recuperating at various places such as: Riverside, Hampton Beach, and Amy Staffieri's house. Fortunately because of the wonderful weather and group therapy, the class of '99 was able to restore its sanity.

It's 6:45 in the morning, and about 40* outside. The hard-working members of the 98-99 yearbook staff are all nestled in their beds with smiles upon their faces.

Oh, never mind! That's where the hard working members of the 98-99 yearbook staff wish they were.

In reality, the staff was slowly but surely filling into McDonald's parking lot, wondering what exactly they were doing there so early in the morning.

Yes, it's sad but true we were forced to hold our big yearbook bonding bash at a fast food restaurant. We had something planned a little more exciting. We were supposed to enjoy a Sunday hike up Mt. Manadock, but due to inclement weather, the trip was cancelled. We could now look forward to a bright and shiny morning at McDonald's. Despite scalding hot coffee and crusty items that were intended to be egg Mc Muffins, we enjoyed spending quality time together. To our surprise, a curious yearbook advisor showed up to "buy a cup of coffee." We know the truth Mr. Kaplan!!! You were only there to be sure we got the colored pictures we needed for our fast approaching deadline.

The Europe Experience '98

I don't think that any of us knew what we were in for when we embarked on the adventure of a lifetime. Nine days, two European countries, 39 students, and 6 chaperones united together to create new bonds, strengthen old ones, and to make memories that would last forever.

Little Gravel's "friend"-sign language, are you tired?-sketchy-people with last names at the end of the alphabet, good luck getting on the plane-Erica's in-flight nurse (Brad)-Madrid-Principe Pio-bonding with fellow Americans-Adrian- "wakey-wakey time"-metro buddies-piercings-Amy, Amy, are you okay?-new couples?-Liz's birthday, thanks Hard Rock staff-Toledo/swords-chicken and...fries?-shower traumas-cariactures-Caroline: onion rings?-disco fever- "Ooo La La La"-row boating@Retiro Park- where did Nate and Justin go?-overnight train (levitating?)-Paris-busted bus driver-truth or dare in E&E's-Montmarte (what a workout!)-Nate, what's that on your face?- "I'm having a really bad day"-Ms. Burturlia-X-rated monkey key chains-boulangeries (Nate D)- "voulez-vous..." -Dirty Dancing (E&N)-Janet Jackson's "Together Again" post-disco dance party-Katie, Leah, and co, yo gals are being way too loud, is something wrong?-is anyone awake on the bus?-Tiffany, Tiffany, are you okay?-is bird @#*! really a sign of good luck?

Merci-Gracias-Thank you chaperones. It was definitely a trip that none of was will ever forget. It was a trememdous opportunity, a true bonding experience. -Put down that damn camera-Watch out for those pickpockets-Adios-Au Revoir-Oh yeah, and if anyone is up for another Europe Reunion Party, I hear Liz Howland's house might be available...

Germany '98

"Right now you are standing on three thousand dead bodies" Terry's eyes gleam devilishly, as he inhales deeply from the cigarette butt which casts an eerie gleam through the cobble stone streets of Lucerne, Switzerland. Hmmm... he may not have liked walkmans, tardy children, or the indiscreet snores from the back of the bus- but he had a passion for the infinite beauties and mysteries of Europe. Together, he and Frau Simoneau gave 18 American children the opportunity of a lifetime; guiding our overwhelmed bodies throughout the heartland's of Bavaria, the Tyrol, and Switzerland for ten remarkable days. No trip can or will ever surpass Germany '98. The phrases still echo through my ears, "Right—may pole on the right", "Vice Mr. Bitte" "Tommy put down the camera, NOW!" "Right— Everybody out, just one more Cathedral..." "Does anyone have a curling iron?" "NO MORE CROISSANTS!" "Light Coke, anyone?" "My hair is on FIRE?!" "Can I PLEASE have a glass of ice?" "Wakey, Wakey everyone"

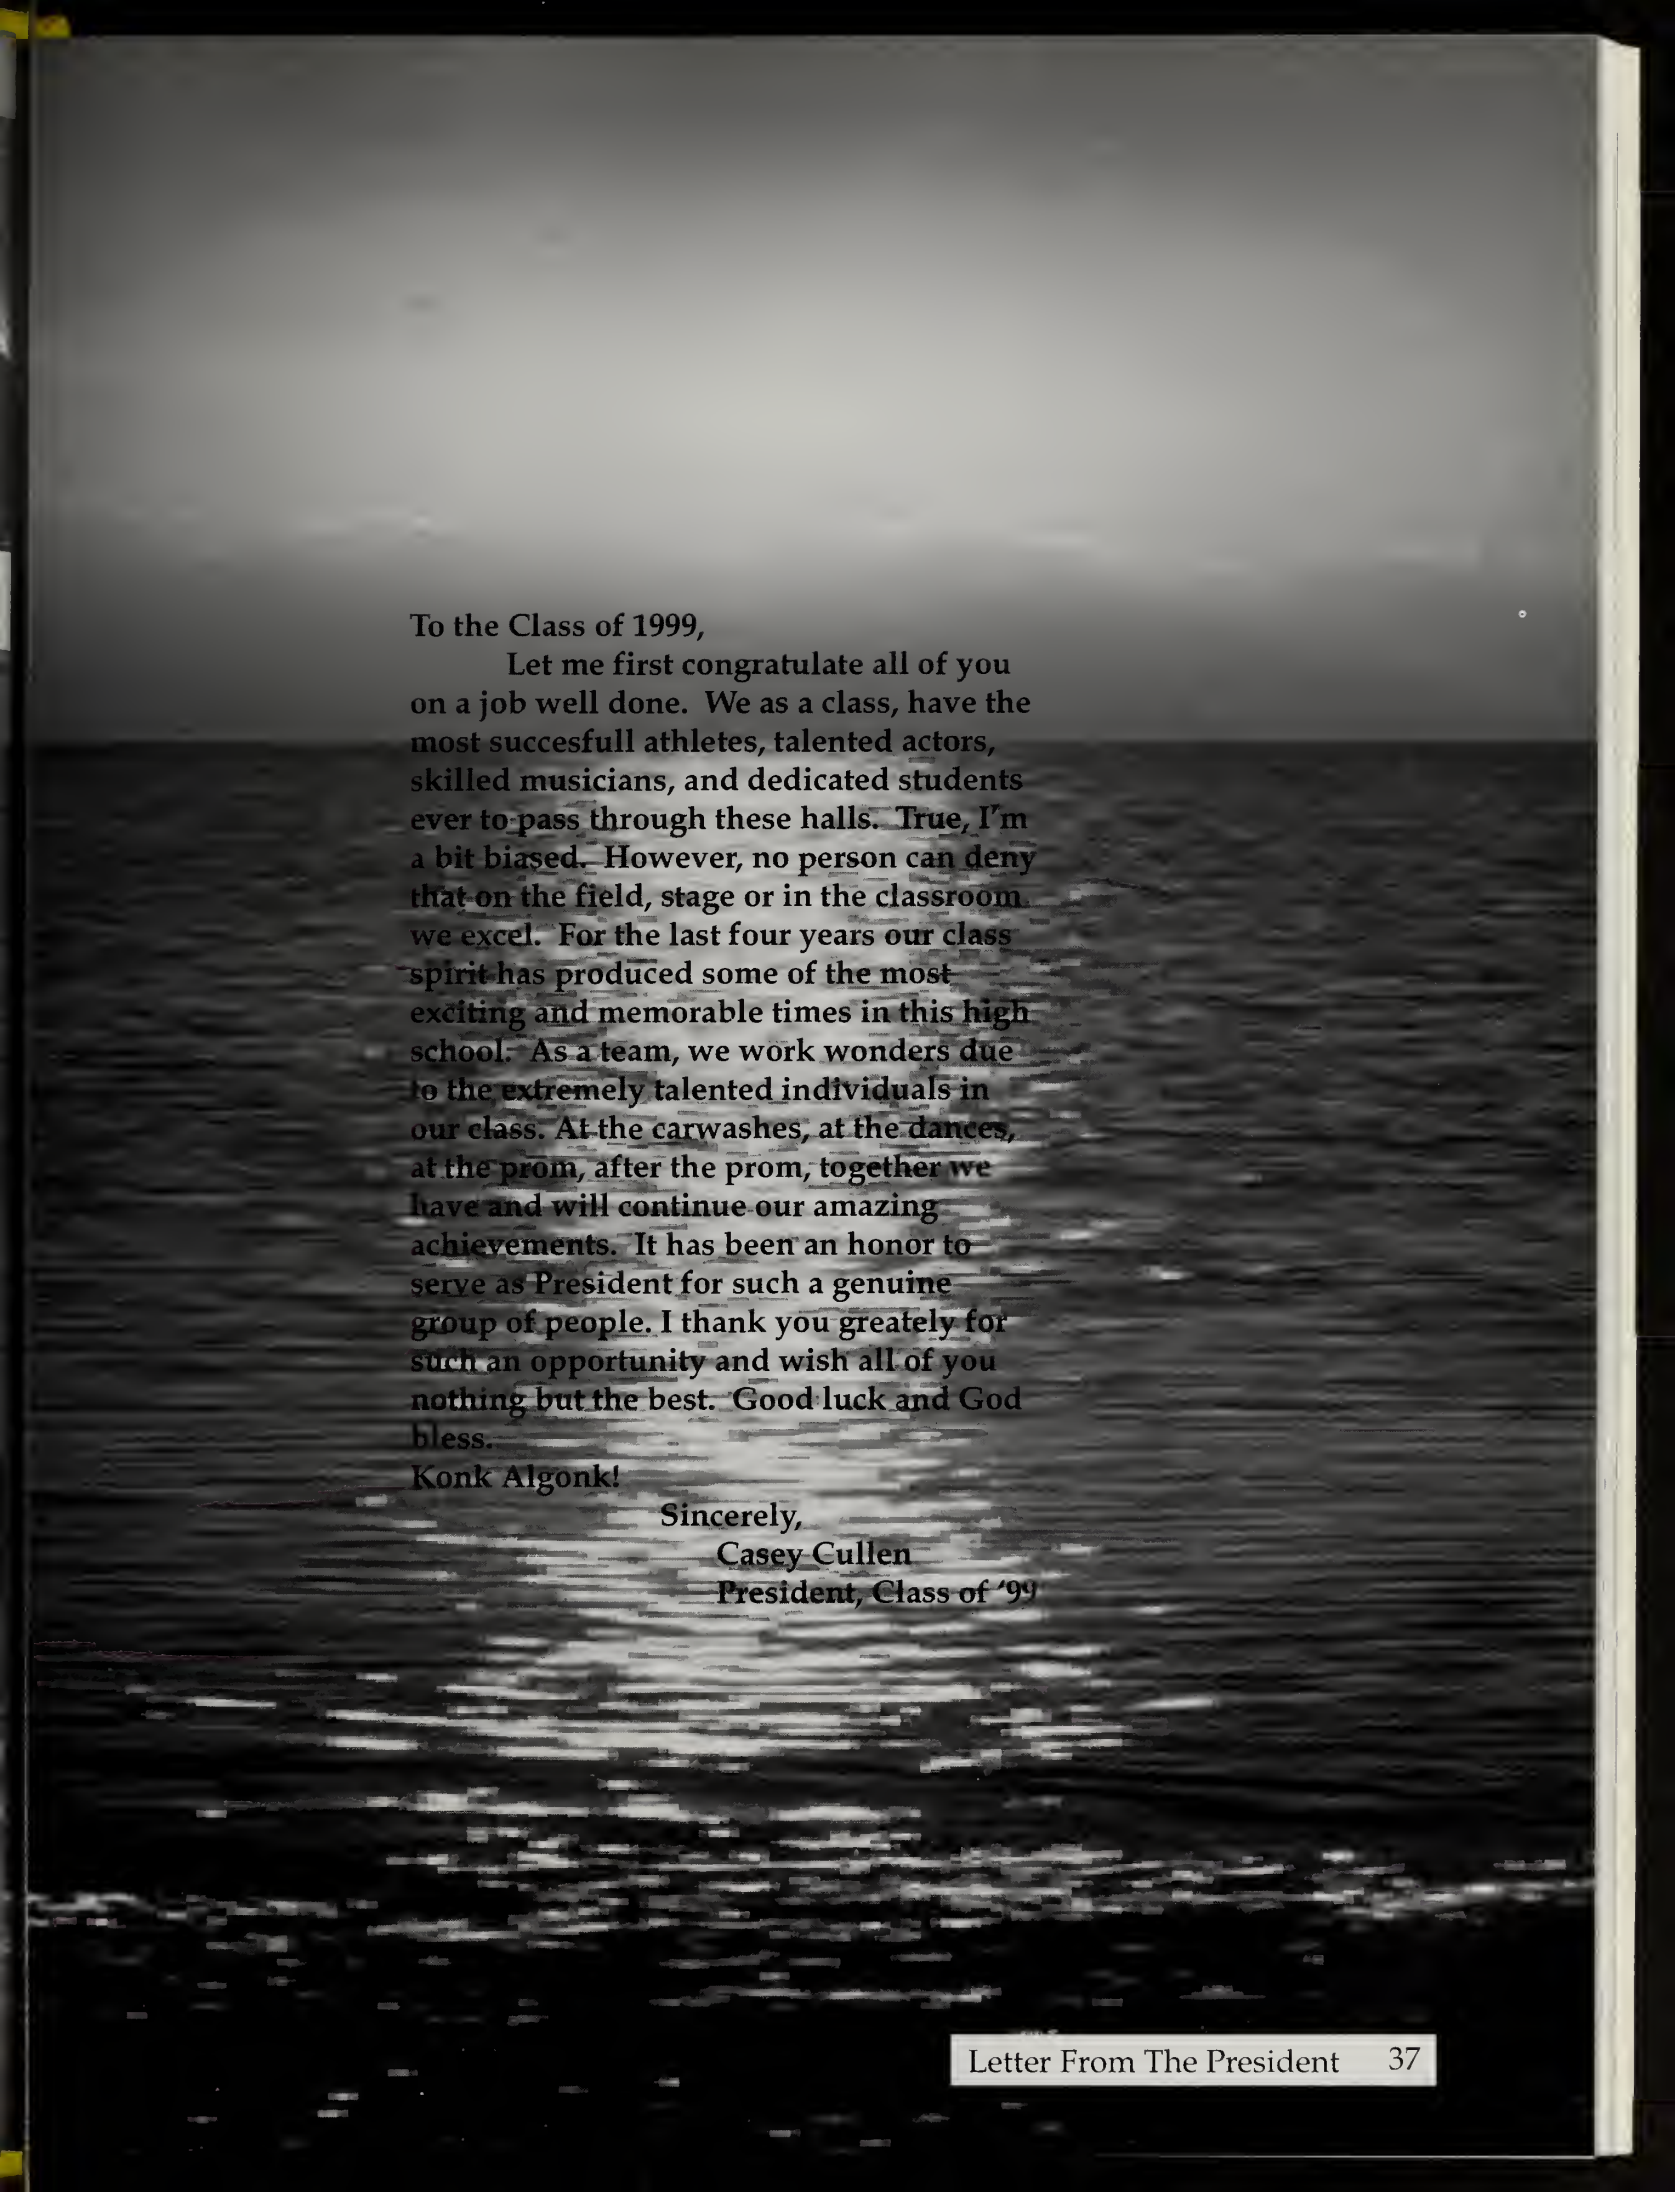
1999 Class Officers



To the Class of 1999,

Let me first congratulate all of you on a job well done. We as a class, have the most succesfull athletes, talented actors, skilled musicians, and dedicated students ever to pass through these halls. True, I'm a bit biased. However, no person can deny that on the field, stage or in the classroom we excel. For the last four years our class spirit has produced some of the most exciting and memorable times in this high school. As a team, we work wonders due to the extremely talented individuals in our class. At the carwashes, at the dances, at the prom, after the prom, together we have and will continue our amazing achievements. It has been an honor to serve as President for such a genuine group of people. I thank you greately for such an opportunity and wish all of you nothing but the best. Good luck and God bless.

Konk Algonk!

Sincerely,

Casey Cullen

He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much, who has filled his niche and accomplished his task, who has left the world better than he found it, whether by a perfect poem or a rescued soul, who has always looked for the best in others and given them the best he had; who never quit; whose life was an inspiration 77

There's so much more to life than being consumed by anger, hatred, or fear. If you could just see your power, your potential, or the greatness you have inside. If you could see what you're capable of doing, what you could change, what you could create; a glimpse is all you'd need. Then the world would seem like such a different place.

Most Likely To Make A Splash Class of 1999

In With A Bang. Out With A Bang.

SENIOR SIESTA

Sleep... a precious commodity in WHS, what with the 7:35am bell and the midnight cram sessions. However, we, as seniors, have learned to imporvise , catching five minutes here, a first period class there, maybe even a lunch break too. After three years of high school, we've learned the tricks of the trade in catching those lost hours of slumber. In a pinch, anything will pass for a bed: the windowsill, a locker-room bench, and especially Ms.Leahy's wonderful couch. All of these have housed many a snoring senior. From Day One to Day One hundred eighty, you would be hard-pressed to find a class without its fair share of sleepers. A parting word for the underclassmen: Learn how and when to get a nap in, or face a serious case of caffeine addiction.

-Dave Allen '99

far right: Note to underclassmen- It's better to take a nap before the game rather than during.
far right above corner: Sharon wishes she opted for the regular instead of the decaf.

right: Dan snoozes, while Scott struggles to stay awak since it's his turn to take their notes.
below center: After stealing a few purses, Glenn's exhausting run leaves him with no energy to make it the stairs.

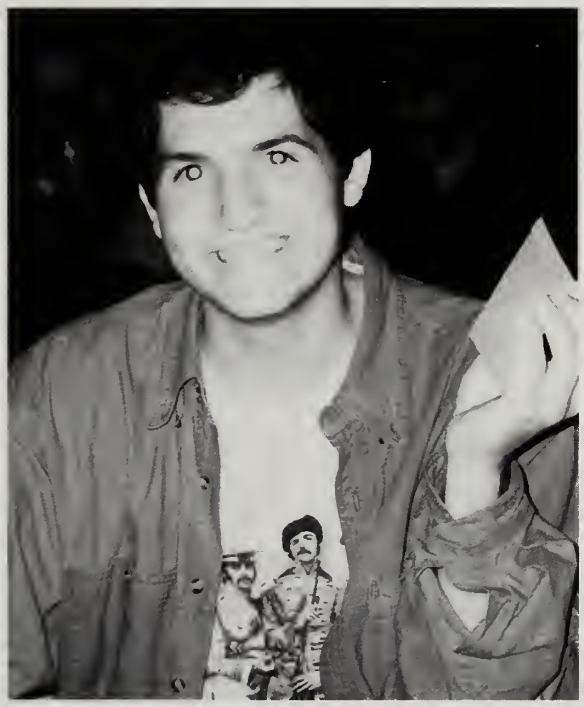
Coffee House

Chris Nowlin shov everyone how to "bu a move."

Erin Kendrick hos Ned's with serio alterna style.

Dan Kircher tells the teachers to "Leave us kids alone!"

Left: Justin Kreth jam



Top: The senior men prove that disco did not die with the Seventies.

Clockwise:

"Them" rocked the house with their amazing barbershop quartet routine.

Mark Dittleman need we say more?

Mark Granger proves himself the master of rhythm as he whips an incredible drum solo out of his pocket.

Ned's Coffee House

November 12th was the culmination of weeks of planning, plotting, and preparation. The donations were collected, the decorations were put up, and approximately 80 students from WHS had gathered in the lobby for an evening of entertainment.

Once again, the annual Ned's Coffee House, sponsored by the Lit Mag, was host to the vast and varried talents of Westboro High students. Both "Prometheus, Unbound", and the "Ned's Coffee House" mugs were finally unveiled, and the poetry and singing brought down the house. Impromtu dancing abounded as many spirited seniors boogied down to the beat of the music. With the overwhelming popularity this year's coffeehouse brought, the Lit Mag hosted it's first ever spring edition of "Ned's". Thanks to our staff and everyone who helped.

Nothing but Stress

As we all walked into school on the first day, suddenly we realized we were no longer the bottom rung and "the adventure" was about to begin. Noticing several younger kids, each and everyone of us realized that we'd soon, if not already, be taking on new, larger responsibilities. Luckily, I was one of the "chosen" upperclassmen to be asked, "How do I open my locker?" Feeling this overwhelming privilege, I knew at that very moment, my school years were changing. No longer was I one of the underclassmen looking for help, I was now an upperclassman giving guidance. This began the start of the stressful struggle through the junior year. Having always been told that the junior year is the hardest, most important year of our lives, we all knew that we'd have to work hard to get through the struggle together. Gradually our disconnected class slowly began to form one; this was a large step towards overcoming the struggle with which we were faced. With the challenging classes, SAT's around the corner, the start of the "college hunt," and important decisions to make - we have kicked our junior year into full blast!

After a long winter, spring and summer of lifting and running the football team gathered with a list of goals for the season: 1) Win the Mid-Wach B League Title, 2) Win the Division II Title, and 3) Go to the Super Bowl. With 23 seniors back for their final year, we were not going to let anybody stand in the way of our goals. The theme for each game was to "Set the tone!" We set the tone early in the season, opening with a 28-0 win over Shrewsbury. Through the season we kept rolling, racking up 50 points twice and winning games over Nashoba, Gardner, Oakmont and Algonquin. We finished the season 8-2 winning both the League and Division Titles. From there it was on to the Super Bowl, ending a memorable season.

The 1998 Ranger Field hocky season began with a faulty Spice Girls impersonation, and a strange version of a Japanese dance. This resulted in a failure to defend our title in the camp talent competition. Thankfully, we found that the team's ability to play was significantly better than our ability to sing and dance, and we went on to lose only one regular season game. Unfortunately, our starting forward and tri-captain, Hayley Thompson was out with an injury but contributed with her voice rather than her stick. However, thanks to a little music, a lot of spirit, and a couple rounds of "I Have Never," the season turned out to be a great success!

Good luck next year!

After making districts last year, the 199 team was expected to continue the success a precedented in 1997. Yet with only six returnin seniors and the majority of the team playing i their first year at the varsity level, this would b very difficult to do. Despite the team's youth and inexperience, all the members played with heart and gave their all throughout the entire season.

We started the season with a tie against Shrewsbury, which was already an improvement over last year's record. However, after giving up too many goals early in the season, our lineup was rearranged, and the players quickly adapted to their new roles. If luck had been in our favor, we would have easily made districts. However, losses against Quabbin and Nashoba prevented us from continuing on to the tournament. Highlights of the 1998 season included a "come from behind" tie against North Middlesex, and another tie against Quabbin, which again outdid last year's squad.

With a large number of upperclassmen and returning juniors, next year's team shouldn't have any trouble building upon this level of play.. While this year's team wasn't as successful as we would've liked, the squad's undeniable skills did help to establish a name for Westboro High School soccer. With the talent and experience of returning players, next year's team should definitely pose a threat to the other teams in the league.

We began under the beating summer sun, and ended with the cold winds of late fall. With captains, Jeremy Nute (State Runner and more), Scott Schlegelmilch (that's me) and John Shaw (yeah John), we set upon this season determined to repeat last year's good fortune with a couple more wins of our own, such as the League Meet. With our top runners like Jeremy Nute, Mike Panas, Kevin Moynihan, Chewy, Mike Palmieri and Andy Hickman, we began strong. But thick come to thin, disease and injuries took their course amongst the team and we began relying on others to step it up and begin placing. Runners such as Zach Welch, and the two Ballietts took up the call and the team started to win some again.
It was too late though, and the damage done was to stay. Losing both Wachusett Invitational and the League Meet our team almost fell apart. But due to the amount of team spirit and leadership, we were able to pull off the season strong and smiling.
Good luck in the upcoming years, and let's bring home some trophies! -Scott Schlegelmilch '99

To the team of 1998:

We remember calling you guys up last summer, begging (and stalking) for you to join the cross-country team. We admit it; we wanted the numbers, and we didn't know how many of you would actually stick with it. But we have to say that each of you were so much more than just a number. Remember these numbers..7-1(baby!). Each win and even that single, lonely, 1 point loss were all the results of those 5:30 days. Think of the struggle going up O'Neil. The pain, the agony... But what did that make us? STRONGER!!!
You'd think we were strong enough for buck-buck, huh? But "Coachy Woachy" didn't seem to think so. We had some crazy times with Vinny T's, pasta parties, and where are those muddy buddies? Are we talking about food again? The beauty of cross-country, you can eat what you want and you won't be a house. Mahone? Spirit champs (Fairies can Fly). Yeah, yo mama can fly!
Well, darling gimps, it's time for us to go. Remember our "circle" (of life). You can even apply it to everyday situations . Thanks, girls. So Don't Stop.

Love,

Powerful, determined, beautiful, and strong: we are the Westborough Ranger Women's Volleyball Team. The 1998 season was nothing less than a display of excellence. Not only was our regular season outstanding, with a final record of 15-3, but finishing as district semi- finalists was an additional privilege. As League Champions, our banner will proudly hang in the gym for all to see. As cap- tains, we are ecstatic about our team's ac- complish- ments. The 1998 season has set the standard for all WHS teams to come; the tal- ent and unity our team has demonstrated was unprecedented. We will always remember the team, as well as the crazy fans, the spandex, and most of all, the friends. Thank you to all the players. You are the gorgeous gals who made it ALL possible.

Basketball Squad

We started off the season with a bang, cheering at the infamous Shriner's All Star football game. This was immediately followed by an intense cheerleading camp held at Holy Cross. Throughout the summer, captains Ali Shadduck and Jess Barry held practices to get the team back in shape and prepared for the long football season ahead. The spirits soared throughout the entire season due to the fact that we were cheering for an outstanding football team. The event that will live forever in our hearts as well as school history was being able to attend the Division 2 Superbowl at Springfield College.

Many changes occured during the one week switch between football season and basketball season, and we weren't sure how things would turn out. We lost a good amount of people, yet gained a few who had the experience and dedication which we needed. At the first few games we proved to the fans, and to ourselves, that we could be as good as we wanted to be. Good luck to next year's team, and remember- you too can be as good as you want to be; all you have to do is try.

With only three returning Varsity players, Coach LaDuke's 1998-99 Rangers basketball team had their work cut out for them. The roster boasted players from all four classes at the high school, with Dan Bready representing the freshman class at point guard. Sophmores Josh Paquette and Bill Madovick rotated in the guard spots, and Juniors Mark Dukas, Craig Lareau and John Dunne were forces down low. The only familiar faces form the past year were the three senior Tri-Captains Pat Bready, Mike Weiss and Dan Parise. The Rangers didn't play as well as they would have liked, but even though they didn't win every game, the victories they did grasp were hard-fought and pride-filled. It is rumored that the Mid-Wach B League cut the season short at 17 games because they knew that the Rangers were just warming up, and were due for a long win streak.

Compared to the three years before, this season we had few less ups, and a lot more downs. A less experienced team, tough schedule, and injuries all took their toll. Finishing out their high school careers were Chris Amorelli, Jamie McPherson, Ricky Pratt, Ryan Gregory, Diane Hunter and John McGuire. The team will be left in the talented hands of Jeff Lemery and John Kemble, as well as the spirited Joe Sanginario. We've gone through good times and bad, but we all love the game, and we're glad to be part of the team. In the end, we will miss it, but continue to look back on the good times.

The '98-'99 WHS swim team finished the season with an outstanding record of 10-3. This year's team was lead to victory by second year coach Bethany Bergeman, and the team's tri-captains: Chrisy Banks, Kelly Buchard, and John Sherman. The pool time was, as always, an issue... "Practice at five o'clock in the morning?!?" Although being a little hard to handle at first, the team somehow survived the early morning practices twice a week. We found a way to get into the freezing cold water, and restrained ourselves from drowning the people who were a "little too happy" to be swimming at 5 AM. But thanks to our Tye Dye's, our PJs, and our towel outfits, the swimming spirit prevailed. We gained notoriety and fans as each day passed.

New coaches, few returning seniors and a lot of lousy weather could not keep the Westboro High school track team from having an outstanding season. With Coach Anderson assuming the position of head coach for both the Girls and the Boys team, and Coach Ellis as the new field coach, the team had to adjust to many changes including longer practices and new drills. New members and old helped to contribute to winning seasons for both teams. The girls placed 3rd in the class meet, and many went on to the Districts.

Mixed Chorus is one of those rare classes that brings together a cross section of the entire school. To an outsider, it is a seemingly random grouping of students. However, under the guidance of our wonderful director Mr. Seaman, we were somehow able to bring it together into a well-oiled singing machine. Don't let this mislead you into thinking it was all work. Mr. Seaman's stories, constant abuse of Tim Alves, and Jared Wollacott's censored jokes all added to the overall atmosphere of the class; one of those special classes where fun is part of the curriculum.

People almost always find themselves giggling upon the entrance of a bunch of high school kids dressed in full Renaissance costume--especially the men in tights. Yet few realize how much time and effort is put into creating that final magical performance.

Despite our serious appearance, we are still a fun-loving group, most often singing about wine, poultry and love (though it's usually not even in English).

The Best of the Best

Looking back on the time spent in Concert oir, the most vivid memories I have are of hid- us polyester dresses, "Wading" In the Water th Tricia LaRose, fumbling over the pronuncia- n of certain archaeic latin words, being the ucky Duck", Mr. P's special rendition of Happy Birthday", the crazy keyboard skills of rs. Cynthia Hamburger and desperately trying memorize music the night of a concert. We anaged to survive the polyester..but the latin has arred us for life...

Allegretto - Allegro

I've been a member of the WHS Concert Band for 4 years and it has been nothing but hard work and fun. We have played a variety of music from "Voodoo", Sousa Marches, Bernstein's "Overture to Candide", "Incantations and Dance", and a few crazy pieces by PDQ Bach. We participated in various festivals. Seniors, I'm sure you remember freshman year in NYC- "Medieval Dinner" anyone!?! I can't forget one important person though. We were blessed with an awsome conductor, Mr. Jost, who taught us to enjoy all aspects of music. He kept us on our toes with challenging music and laughing with his twisted sense of humor. For all you underclassmen, Stick with it! You'll walk away with more unforgettable memories than you'll know what to do with. (Mr. Jost, Hankensack, NJ!) Good luck to you all! -Liz Fineman '99

What does one think of when someone says the words "marching band"? That's a good question. Being a member of the marching band for the last four years has truly opened my eyes to what it really means. To myself and many others, marching band is finding numerous uses for duct tape, doing "push-ups for points" at the football games, harassing the cheerleaders, rousing up the crowd, inventing new instruments and causing a general ruckus. But band isn't all just fun and games. Being the Drum Major for the last two years has shown me how much goes into band behind the scenes--ranging from perfecting marching skills to fine-tuning music for the half time show, while bonding together and forming long lasting friendships. It all requires so much time and effort, but in the end it's all worth it. In the wise words of senior tenor sax player Rob "The Cyclone" Laptewicz, "Hold on to these memories guys and make them count because they're some of the last ones we have together, but they're some of the best."

RECKLESS FALL PLAY '98

Phil Weinrobe is overcome by an attack of stage-fright.

This year's fall play was Reckless written by Craig Lucus. It is a dark comedy revolving around a main character Rachel and the countless adventures she encounters through her life. It all starts when her husband tells her he took a contract out on her life.

The play involved the participation of over 50 WHS students and was directed by Ms. Leahy and student Meg Handly '99. Reckless was a hit with the audiences. Centerstage even took it to the state festival. It was a great experience for all involved, and according to Mr. Seaman: "Reckless was the best fall play yet."

Centerstage

Centerstage is the theater organization at Westborough High School, though some of you may know Centerstage as the group of kids who are always running around after school and as the kids who you always hear yelling "MAAAAH!" from the stage. Centerstage involves the hard work and dedication of many WHS students. Whether it be directing, acting, improv, or working backstage, many students get their first taste of all the "mother's milk" drama has to offer through a Centerstage experience. So, if you desire to be Reckless or you are sick of using that Crucible in science class, come on over and be a part of Centerstage. Everyone is welcome. We do not discriminate. I'm sure that, whether you know it or not, theater at WHS will put you under a Godspell, even if your name happens to be something like, oh let's say, Sweeney Todd.

In Front: Mark Dittleman and John Eldridge

Improv is a magical land full of nymphs and wood gnomes. All who dare enter can become whatever they wish, whether it Mrs. Butterworth or even a tape worm. The strange and unusual talents of playing the piano backwards, or being selectively-permeable have emerged among the giddy vikings who have gathered on Fridays. The stage has become both a meat market as well as the Kreb Cycle during the adventures of the past. The improv games we have played have provided fun and have gotten the creative juices flowing. I'm thankful to have been part of this group for the past four years.

The members of the Student Council

This wonderful group of students comprised of 24 kids, 6 from each grade, makes up the Student Council. We are at the school at 7:00a.m. every Wednesday morning making up fun and exciting things to provide entertainment for the rest of WHS. Bake sales, candy canes, carnations, basketball games... we do it all, and we do it well. We are dedicated to serving and protecting hundreds of students every day- and we do it all with a smile!

The WHSCC's mission is to help our increasingly diverse student body both understand and appricate our diffrences. On the October 25th Crop Walk we joined the Westborough comunity in out comon concern to end world hunger, raisin over $800! The Cultural Council also attends such confrences as "Actions Speak Louder" and "Wold of Diffrence" sponsered the national Council of Christians and Jews and the Anti-Defamation League. We are looking for students interested in promoting diversity and tolerance with the enthusiasm and creative ideas!

The Peer Leadership Group is now in its forth year. As a new group we have accomplished many feats. Our projects range from showing new students around the school to suicide prevention. Our main goals are to spread knowledge, to be a bridge between the students and the faculty, and to create a safer environment both physically and emotionaly for the students here at Westboro High. We hope that people have benifited from our programs. We aren't trying to change people dramaticaly. We simply want them to think about what is going on around them.

We wish the best of luck to future Peer Leaders and hope the program continues to grow. And to everyone- Remember it only takes one person to speak up and make a difference. Hold tight to what you believe in.

The Making of the Book

Nothing in life is unmixed; and Yearbook is no exception. Some nornings I'm sorry that I got out of bed; they're waiting for me with ure nuttiness, putting out fires, calming ego's, feeling as if my stomch is on the way to the 15th floor while I watch t from the 27th. It's like I'm telling 25 too smart-or-their-own-good teen- agers to clean their room or the umpteenth time. But wait a minute and hings are soo much better. Things fall into place, dges smooth and I'm feel- ing the vitality and good umor that are possible when working with soo nany fine young people. It keeps me young and, ometimes I roll out of bed looking forward to this haotic thing that occasionally takes fantastic shape out of the blue of ny day. There are too many to thank; but those occasionally late fternoons and early evenings are what I will remember most.

Ashley Klugman, what's in a name ?
Since you joined the scene, nothing's been the same.

You talked a blue streak, by the time you were two.
By four you were sure that everything you knew.

You skated, you danced, as well as singing and stage;
We kept the costumes coming, thankfully we earned a good wage.

As we rolled into adolescence, we knew something was amiss;
The mood- swings so severe, we'd seen nothing like this.

We hung on as best we could, it was a wild ride.
By fifteen, thank goodness, they began to subside.

Sweet sixteen, the originator of that saying was nuts.
They never sat next to a student driver as she ground gears and hit ruts.

Following those harrowing days, things leveled off for a while.
You did your own thing and were occasionally pleasant and mild.

One last hurdle, the college search had begun;
Family trips to nice places, an illusion of fun.

Soon this too, shall pass and even that task will end.
High school will finish and graduation we'll attend.

Off to college you'll go, there'll be less noises and mess;
We'll miss you a lot, be lonely, etc., but we must confess;

We are due for a break, after seventeen years of duress;
Best of luck and happiness, pardon us while we rest.

You've made our world wondrous!
Mom and Dad

This bridge will only take you halfway there
To those mysterious lands you long to see:
Through gypsy camps and swirling Arab fairs
And moonlit woods where unicorns run free.
So come and walk awhile with me and share
The twisting trails and wondrous worlds I've known.
But this bridge will only take you halfway there -
The last few steps you'll have to take alone.

Dear Scott,

Thank you for the pride you've given us in all your accomplishments, your kind & generous heart, but mostly for all the smiles you've brought to our family. May the love & laughter you've shared with us come back to you tenfold in your lifetime.

With all our love, Mom, Dad, Jim and Missy

CONGRATULATIONS

Marc,

In a world that showed so little understanding,

you pushed through the pain and somehow found the strength to beat to your own drum.

You are a hero!

You were there when things sucked

Across the morning sky, all the birds are leaving.
Ah, how can they know, it's time for them to go?
Before the winter fire, we'll still be dreaming;
I do not count the time.
Who knows where the time goes?
Who knows where the time goes?
Sad deserted shore, your fickle friends are leaving.
Ah, but then you know, it's time for them to go.
But I will still be here, I have no thought of leaving;
I do not count the time. -Judy Collins

I love you, Tracy. ----- Jessica

Casey...
It's been great watching you grow...
It's going to be hard to let you go...

Editors

A year goes by so quickly. One day we're choosing a title for the book, and the next day, we're rushing to finish our last deadline. The 1999 yearbook was the result of so much hard work and so many extraordinary people. Mr. Kaplan, thank you for taking a chance with me... I'll miss your idiosyncrasies more than you'll know. Erica, I can't even fathom taking on this project without you... there's no one I'd rather argue with. Tracy and Steph, your humor kept a smile on my face. Jill and Caroline, this book couldn't have happened without you! And Paige, your technical knowledge was invaluable (how do you turn on the computer?). To my friends and family, especially my parents, because of you, I survived. I love you all so much it hurts. And a final cheers to the class of 1999- may love, happiness, and success find you all.

Much Love,
Sarah

General Editors

They always say what doesn't kill us makes us stronger. Yearbook was no exception. Those huge deadlines constantly creeping up on us had everyone a little frazzled. First and foremost I'd like to thank my co-editor Sarah. I couldn't have done it with anyone else. It was truly a bonding experience. I also want to thank Tracy and Steph for smiling despite all the ball and the ad stress; Jill and Caroline for taking those countless pictures; Paige, our computer prodigy; Mr. Kaplan for all those sodas after school, always being the calm one, and the endless advice. Thanks to all of you for who put in the extra hours after school, at night, and during vacation. Thanks to my friends and family for putting up with this crazy gal. This is an experience I'll look back on fondly and never forget.

Love,
Erica

This has been a great experience. Most of all, we'd like to thank everyone who took their time to help us out- Mrs. Plante, Mr. Kaplan, Mr.Mewhinney, Mr. Masciarelli, Mr. Richardson, and all those who contributed to the success of the Holiday Ball. Amanda Aho, you're an angel- thanks for everything! Sarah, Erica, Caroline, Jill, and Paige- it's been great... thank you and good luck! Most importantly, we'd like to thank each other. Friendships are made under pressure and strengthened with stress.

Love,
Tracy and Steph

Business Editors

Photo Editors

I'll keep this short and sweet; I'd like to thank Sarah, Erica, Steph, Tracy, Paige, and JILL for being so fabulous and easy to work with. Also, I'd like to thank the whole staff for being patient while I got pictures developed. Finally, a special thank you to "Busta Kap" for putting up with all our shenanigans! Good luck to next year's staff!!!

Caroline

They say a picture is worth a thousand words. I would have to agree. This year has been one to remember. Working on the yearbook has been such an awesome experience for me. I would like to thank Mr. Kaplan for giving me the opportunity to help out. I also want to thank all the editors: Tracy and Steph for all those checks, Paige for knowing how to do everything, Sarah and Erica for spending so much time making a great book, and most of all, Caroline for always being my faithful co-photo editor (always a little nutty together!) I also want to thank my parents, and Ryan and Jeff for those mid-day picture runs. Finally, I want to thank the Class of 1999 for creating the memories for us to capture.

Jill

Technical Editor

In the past two years I have learned more about the computer end of Yearbook Publications than I dreamed possible. Despite countless frozen Macs and major networking difficulties and training a new staff on the computers, the 1999 yearbook is now 99% computer produced. Spending two years on staff has not only opened my mind to the countless possibilities for Desktop Publishing, but the countless possibilities we have as high school students. Working with two incredibly dynamic staffs has given me a new respect for what people truly are capable of when it comes down to the deadlines, and how a very diverse group of people can pull together to capture some of the most important and extraordinary years of our lives.

Paige

Thank you!

Pam Chu for designing the cover and other art work

Everyone who donated pictures

Mr. Kaplan- we are speechless... for once

The whole staff for your hard work, not to mention putting up with our little speeches when deadlines were fast approaching

All the editors who helped make this book possible, especially Paige-without your technical advice, we would be lost

The Janitorial Staff for allowing us to stay and work into the wee small hours of the night (and not locking us in the school)

Our family and friends for your support through this exciting yet stressful time

Mr. Walsh for all your efforts which contributed to a successful yearbook production

Tracy and Steph for making the Holiday Ball an unprecedented success

Ms. Plant, Mrs. Piperato, Mr. Masciarelli, Mr. Federici and all the rest of you who helped with the Holiday Ball

Ms. Martin for all your computer knowledge

Mr. Richardson for his superlative book keeping

Erin Kendrick, our emotional savior

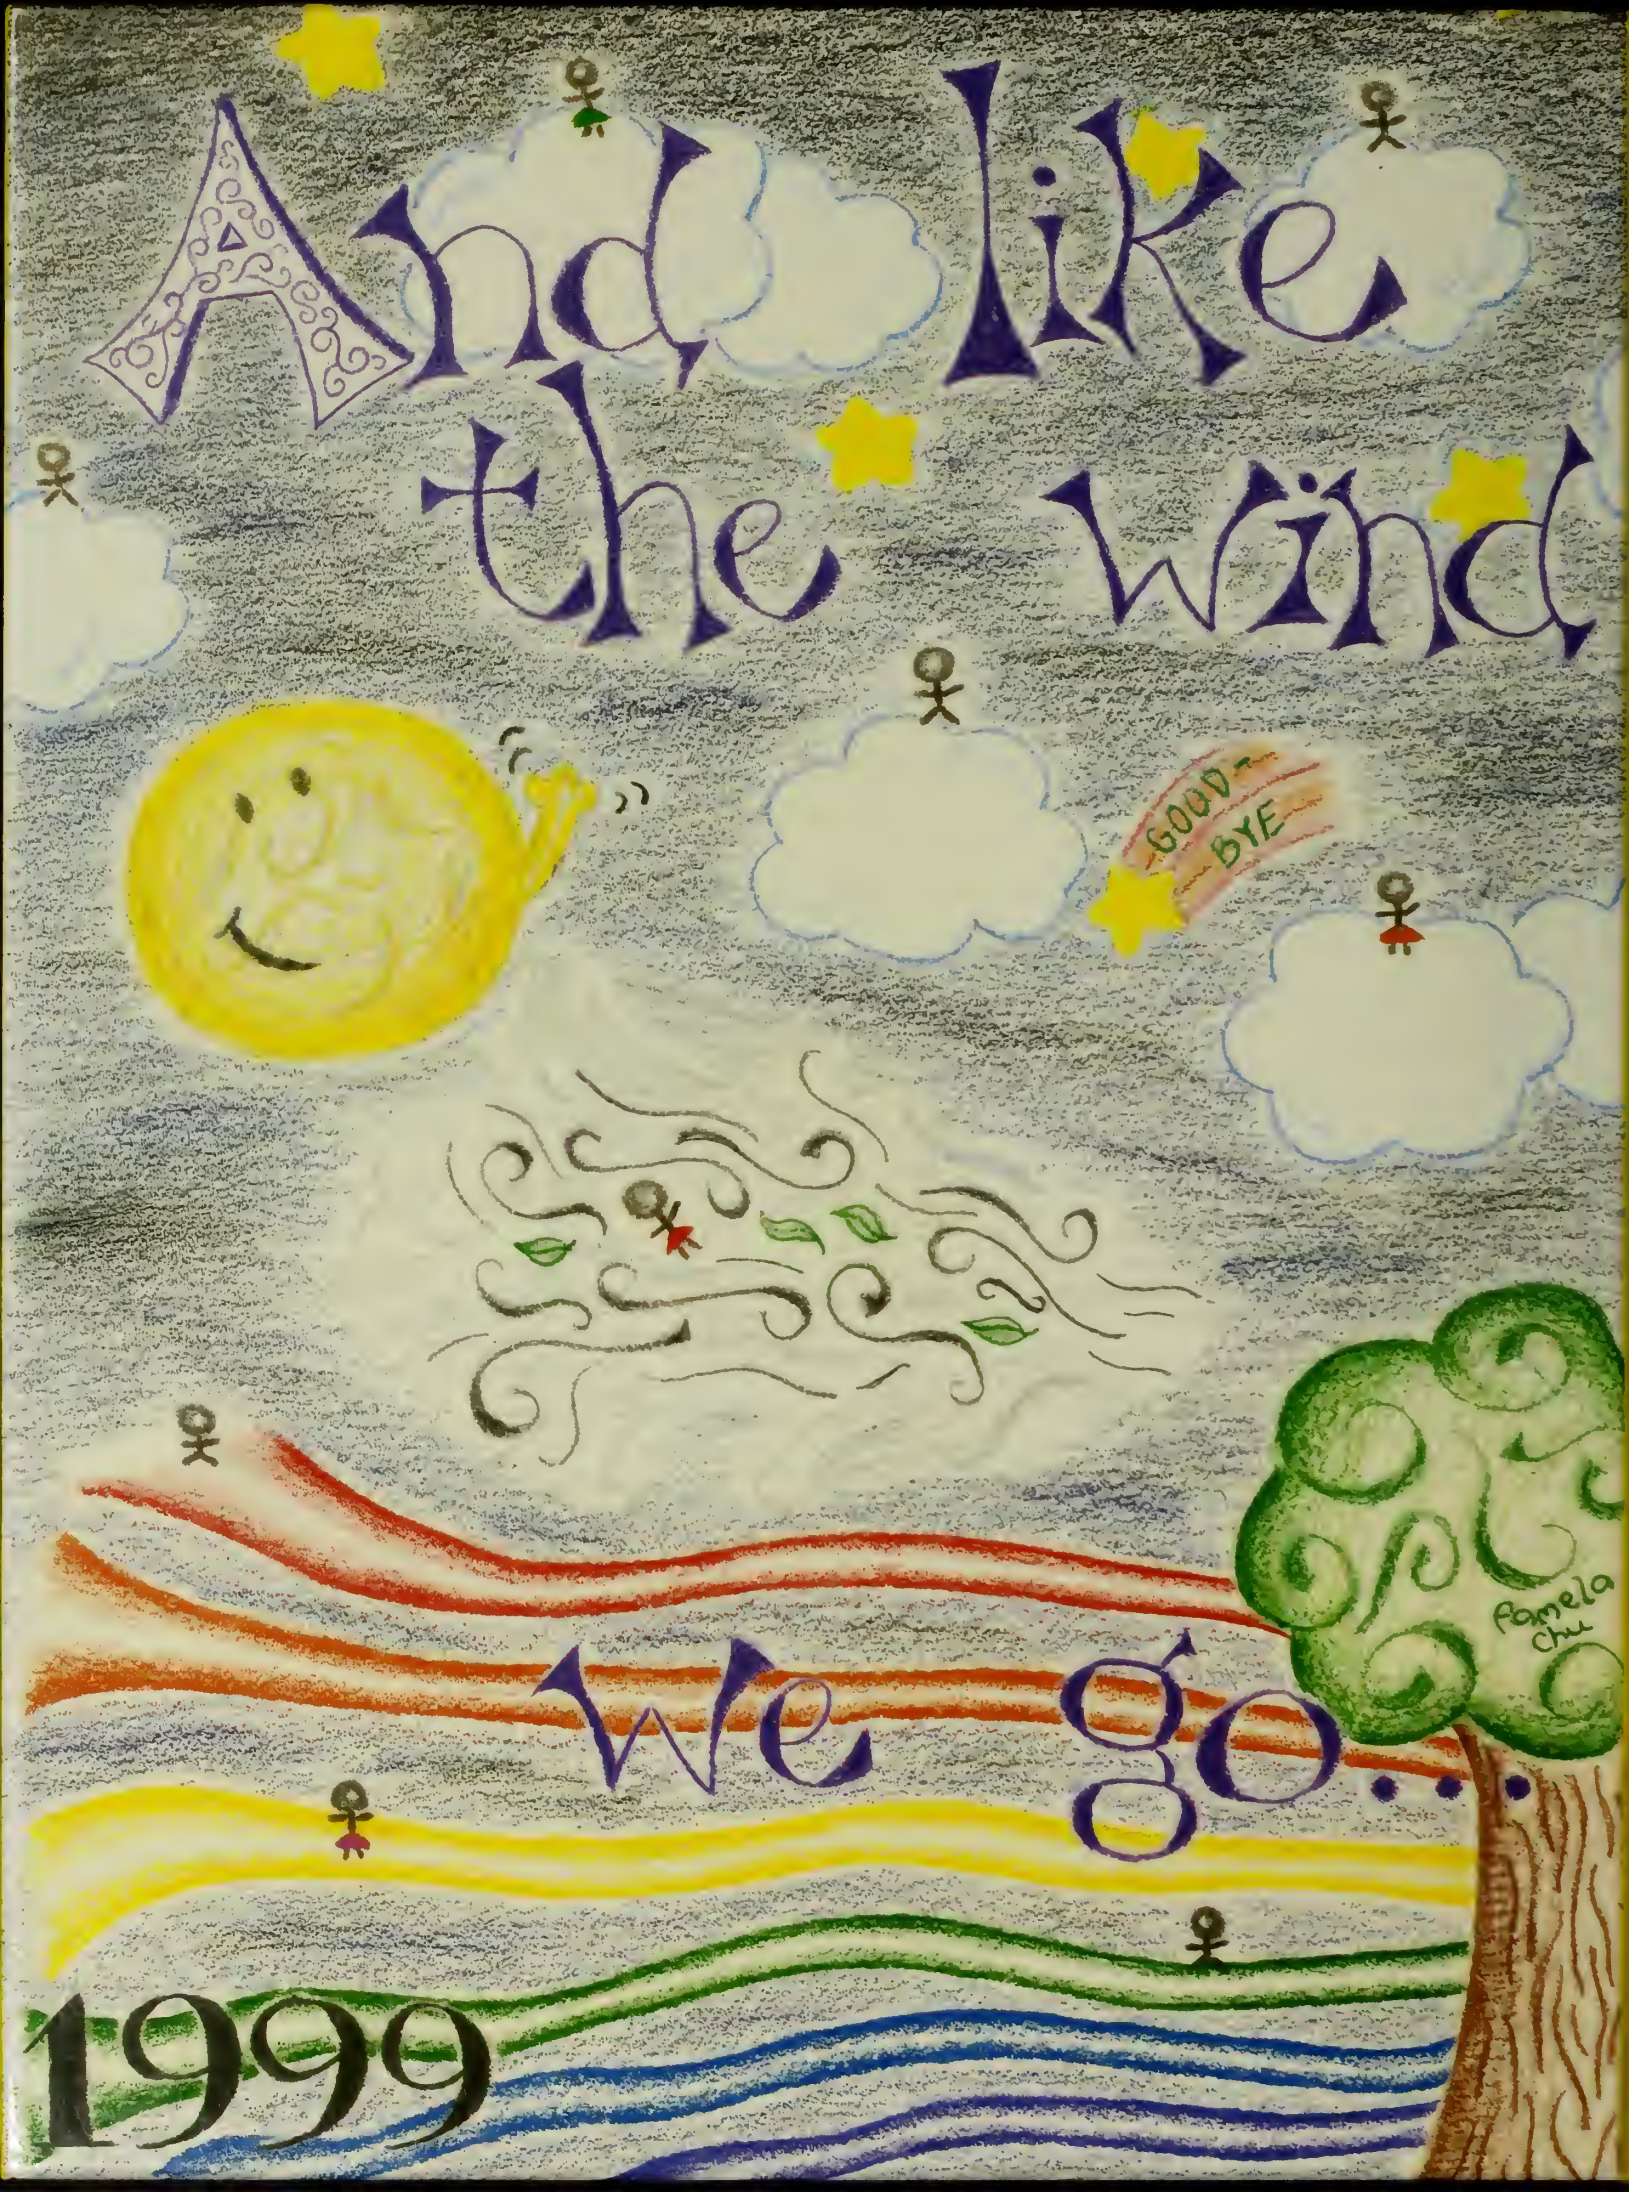
Ashley Klugman for the subway subs

Nando and Charlie

Class of 1999 for providing the inspiration for this book

And to everyone whose names we forgot to mention, we really do appreciate it all

Love,
Sarah and Erica



And like the wind
GOOD-BYE
we go...
